

| PAU ZARAGOZA GALLARDO

I am passionate about the world of computing and my goal is to understand how each piece of this great puzzle works and to be able to apply this knowledge to improve my life and that of others.

| ABOUT ME

I am an individual with a strong enthusiasm for learning new languages and technologies relevant to practical applications. My interests go from high-level software development to low-level programming and hardware. I approach the projects I engage in with a dedicated and team-oriented mindset, aiming to obtain valuable experience. Beyond my professional pursuits, I enjoy doing sports and spending time with friends and family.
